SUMMARY

With the papyrus of Nebamun (BM EA 9964) this volume publishes an 18th Dynasty Book of the Dead manuscript from the extensive collection at the British Museum. Although in a fragmentary state today, the largest parts of this good quality papyrus were able to be reconstructed, the fragments rearranged, and the result presented in full colour photographic reproduction. In addition to the overall description of the manuscript, special attention has been given to a detailed discussion of the vignettes including comparative material from other sources.
